Lesbian S/M
Yes, it is real and here!

Lesbians into S/M are presently establishing a support group in the New York City area.

We feel the S/M lifestyle is a valid one that is misunderstood by most lesbians, who see it as an extension of male domination within the lesbian culture. In reality, the S/M relationship is one built on extreme trust, mutual consent, honest need, and enjoyment. No woman is ever forced, coerced, or tricked into involvement.

If you agree, then we ask for your participation. This women-only group is open to anyone actively involved in any aspect of "politically incorrect sex" as well as to those who have dreams but no actual experience to their credit.

Dec. 8th:	7:30, "Mindfuck S/m" What constitutes unhealthy S/m?

"SO WHAT YOU WANT TO TALK ABOUT ANYWAY?"

1. "Fetish Fantasies:" boots, pumps, leather, rubber, uniforms, sexy undies, denim and chains, Levi's 501's (top button not necessarily undone), dog collars, black satin, garter belts or heavy rings.

2. Role Playing: When is it S/M?
   Butch / femme
   doctor / patient schoolteacher / student warden / prisoner

3. The Simulation of Reality: The fantasy of rape as hot sex.

4. Annonymous sex: "Who was that masked woman?"
   Is there anything wrong with going into a dark semi-public place and fucking around with some woman you never saw before and may never see again?

5. Public Versus Private behavior.
   "At home she was nothing much, but open her blouse in the bar, and oh my!"
   Are scenes done in public really that different from those done in private? What goes on at home that doesn't happen outside it?

6. Fear as a Turn-on.
   Some people are into pain, some submission and some like to have the piss scared out of them. Why is it sexy?

7. Raunchy verbals: "You shit-eating pig, shut your slimy mouth and open those goddamned legs."

8. Humiliation: First she makes you bend over, then she kicks you in the ass and when everyone is looking, she just starts laughing. How come then you start dripping juice down to your knees. (Variation: you do it to her, and you start dripping.)

9. The things that both attract and repel: You don't want that really, but you do.

10. Porn: What turns us on? Why?
    How come some lesbians get off on heterosexual dumb porn or gay men's S/m?

11. Guilt: As Marianne Faithful put it so well..."though I an't nothing wrong I feel guilt."

12. Submissive versus masochistic: Is there a difference? If so, what?

13. Sadistic versus dominant: Is there a difference? If so, who wins?

14. Top versus bottom: Is one more important than the other? Be serious, if there are really 3 to 9 bottoms for every top, what does it mean for the perceived value of each? Who gets more prestige and what does that do to the people involved?

15. Switchable: Is it possible? How does it work?
If you've been playing ruthless S to some helpless bottom, is it then possible to play helpless bottom, and then to switch back effectively? Does it ruin the fantasy or expand the play?

16. Dress Up: Costumes and fantasies. Do the clothes the woman make?
"She was wearing this high-collored victorian lace blouse, little sinch-leather belt over an ankle-length, a pearl cameo on a ribbon at her throat, high-topped button-up boots, and carrying a braided algerian crop. She put the point against my throat and I thought I'd die."

17. Self-inflicted stuff: "I used to wear a chain wrapped three times around my waist, and fastened with a little lock that required a key."
"I used to heat coins in a candle flame and burn designs in my flesh, all the time breathing like a train in a tunnel."
How? Why? Gory details.

18. Is it possible to structure/discipline your life using S/M?
"I'm on the Pat Califia diet, lost nine pounds so far and look great, except for the welts."

19. Theraputic S/M: Can you use it to work out bad days at the office, dumb arguments or just plain bad moods?

20. Mindfuck S/m: What constitutes unhealthy S/m?

21. Technical Workshops:
whipping: crops, cat'o nine tails, flails.
bondage: left arm over right, ankle to throat...huh?
the skilled use of candles and flames
kitchen S/m
Sewing box S/m
Sensorary deprivation
Esoteric equipment

22. Drugs. ***@@!*!

23. Is S/m necessarily sexual? What about lesbians who abuse men?

24. Monogomy and non: If you whip her are you committed?

25. How to introduce the subject to friends and lovers: "Huh, honey there's something I've been meaning to tell you. You know that locked box in the closet..."
